Men's Artistic British Team Championships 2013

Saturday 23rd November

New College, Leicester

Welcome from the Men's Technical Committee

Concluding 2012 and the London Olympic cycle, the phenomenal achievement of our Men's team in winning the team bronze medal has laid the foundations for even greater things to come.

The support from the British gymnastics community from grass roots upwards has been exceptional. This British Team Championships will showcase talent from across the country where we will see many up and coming junior gymnasts right through to some of our Olympic heroes.

Good luck to all and I hope you enjoy the competition.
