Welcome gymnasts and spectators to the 2013 Disability Artistic British Championships.

Disability gymnastics continues to go from strength to strength and this event will once again showcase some spectacular routines from gymnasts across Great Britain.

The pathway toward inclusion is progressing at great speed and the top disability gymnasts from today's competition will be invited to compete in the mainstream British Championships in 2014. We are delighted to return to Benfield Sports Centre in Newcastle and look forward to a terrific competition – good luck to all those competing.

VETS GYMNASTICS

Veterans competitions incorporate the usual discipline rules, but the requirements are less strict to accommodate the varying ages and non-competitive nature (although many may argue it is in fact highly competitive, albeit with a friendly feel). It is part of the FIG approved 'Gymnastics For All' format which include, along with Veteran Competitions, Festivals, Disabilities and TeamGym.

Gymnastics For All is the historical and cultural base of all FIG activities. It is a non-competitive form of gymnastics featuring festivals and displays and culminating in a World festival of gymnastics, the World Gymnaestrada, held every four years and attracting tens of thousands of participants from many countries.

Playing a leading role within the International Olympic Committee 'Sport for All' activities,

Gymnastics For All offers a varied range of activities suitable for all age groups, comprising essential gymnastics exercises, with and without apparatus, as well as games. It focuses on items that are of particular interest in the national and cultural context.

Gymnastics For All develops health, fitness and social integration and also contributes towards physical and psychological well-being.

WORLD GYMNAESTRADA

This official World event of the FIG encompasses events from the entire field of Gymnastics For All, which are carried out as displays and without competitions. The Gymnaestrada takes place every 4 years and represents a public demonstration of the Worldwide significance of Gymnastics For All.

DISABILITY ARTISTIC GYMNASTICS

Disability Gymnastics involves the coach adapting gymnastics skills to ensure that disabled people can fully access gymnastics and are enabled to take part at the level of their choice.

Historically people with a learning disability had access to gymnastics through the Special Olympics Movement. However in the UK, there was no similar provision for those with physical or sensory disabilities.

As a result, British Gymnastics has established Disability Gymnastics, to develop and provide training and competitive opportunities for all disabled people. Disability Gymnastics is 'Pan-Disability', (in other words; it means that it is accessible to people with any impairment). The Disability Gymnastics competitive structure is growing fast and at the pinnacle of this structure, National Disability Gymnastics Squads are also now in place for Men's, Women's, Trampoline and Rhythmic Gymnastics.

In order to provide appropriate levels of training and competition for disabled people, a National Development Plan and Voluntary Competition structure was introduced in Men's and Women's Artistic, Acrobatics, Trampoline and Rhythmic Gymnastics. This structure follows the prescribed discipline format, albeit with appropriate modifications. Our vision is for Disability Gymnastics to be integrated in to every mainstream competition where appropriate, from grassroots club competitions right through to British Championships.

Work has also been undertaken to allow for those gymnasts who aspire to compete internationally. As British Gymnastics has been and still is leading the world in the development of Disability Gymnastics, it was decided to host the first International Disability Gymnastics Competition in Belfast in 2000. This was combined with a symposium and workshop, sharing the good practice here in the UK. A second International was held again in Belfast, in 2003.

All disciplines of the sport have a role in the promotion and inclusion of disabled people. Whether accommodated within mainstream clubs or in specialised/dedicated disability centres or sessions, it is every coach's responsibility to provide appropriate training for individuals of all abilities.

To this end, British Gymnastics has developed a Disability Gymnastics Coaching Module and this is made open and available to coaches of all disciplines. With more than 1,000 British Gymnastics coaches having completed this module and numbers still rising; gymnastics is fast becoming more and more accessible to disabled people in a growing number of clubs all over the UK.

NEW

PARTICIPATION PROGRAMME

DISABILITY GYMNASTICS

I'M IN is the new disability gymnastics programme from BG, which aims to create more participation opportunities for more disabled people in gymnastics. The programme will support a network of Gymnastic Clubs and coaches to plan and deliver quality gymnastics opportunities for disabled people. The programme will also raise the profile of disability gymnastics; increasing the demand for gymnastics by disabled people and enabling them to become involved in our exciting and accessible sport.

If your club wishes to increase opportunities for disabled people in gymnastics and would like some support to help you do so, then this programme is perfect for you. 10 disability Hub Clubs will be delivering an annual I'M IN programme of disability gymnastics events designed to support clubs and engage more disabled people.

Details of how your club can sign up to and benefit from the programme will be available later in 2013.
